

www.artworks-u.org.uk
Alison O'Hara
Project Manager
ArtWorks North East

Art
Works

Paul Hamlyn Foundation
Special Initiative

Developing
Practice in Participatory
Settings

University of Sunderland

Short courses

- September 2013 to March 2014
- Accredited and non-accredited
- Workshops on:
 - What is participatory practice?
 - History of participatory practice
 - Project management
 - Community, criminal justice, education, health, youth work and cross-contextual settings
- Evaluation
- One-day introductory course in participatory practice – project management and community and youth work settings

Home

Contact

Getting Started

About Us

Development Opportunities

Inspiration/Ideas

Artistic Practice

Exploring Contexts

The Business

 Search resources

Pilots to Practice

Learning approaches for artists working in participatory settings

BALTIC Centre for Contemporary Art, Gateshead

10.00 to 17.00, Tuesday, 9 September 2014

Website on which people can access comprehensive free of charge training materials about artists working in participatory settings.

Materials

- Text documents
- Slides
- Videos
- Links to websites
- Links to blogs
- Searchable by key word, resource type and artform
- Ordered by relevance or post date
- Most viewed

Personal favourites

- Project management prezi
- Do's and don'ts of arts and dementia
- Relationship between freelance artists and project managers
- Fast Forward Futures leaflet
- Text interviews with artists
- Filmed interviews with artists

Plans for the future

- Materials updated regularly
- Filmed interview with commissioner
- Supports courses developed in association with Creative People and Places
- Routes through the website

Image: page 8 Final Frontier, Gateshead Riverside Park, rednile

STAND HERE
FOR THE BEST
VIEW

Art
Works

Paul Hamlyn Foundation
Special Initiative

Developing
Practice in Participatory
Settings

University of Sunderland